Commencement [see endnotes]

PART 1

INTERPRETATION AND GENERAL

1 Interpretation

- (1) In this Law –
 - “adult” means a person aged 18 or older;
 - “child” means a person aged 17 or younger;
 - “consent” has the meaning given by Article 2;
 - “female genital mutilation” has the meaning given by Article 28(2);
 - “female genital mutilation offence” has the meaning given by Article 30(1);
 - “gain” has the meaning given by Article 21;
 - “Minister” means the Minister for Home Affairs;
 - “payment” has the meaning given by Article 21;
 - “penetration” is to be construed in accordance with paragraph (3);

 - “sexual” is to be construed in accordance with paragraph (2);
 - “touch” is to be construed in accordance with paragraph (4);
 - “vagina” includes the vulva.
- (2) For the purpose of this Law an act (including penetration, touching or communication) is sexual if a reasonable person would, in all the circumstances of the case, consider it to be sexual.
- (3) A reference in this Law to “penetration” is to a continuing act from entry to withdrawal.
- (4) For the purpose of this Law, touching another person includes –
 - (a) ejaculating semen onto the other person; and

- (b) emitting urine, faeces or saliva onto the other person.
- (5) A reference in this Law to a part of the body includes reference to such a part surgically constructed, whether through gender reassignment surgery or otherwise.
- (6) In this Law –
 - (a) a reference to a person “aged 16 or younger” is to a person who has not attained his or her 17th birthday;
 - (b) a reference to a person “aged 16” is to a person who has attained his or her 16th birthday but has not attained his or her 17th birthday;

 - (d) a reference to a person “aged 16 or older” is to a person who has attained his or her 16th birthday,and references to persons of other ages are to be construed accordingly.

2 Interpretation: consent

- (1) This Article applies for the purpose of construing references to consent in Part 2.
- (2) Consent means free agreement.
- (3) Agreement to an act is not free agreement if the complainant agrees because –
 - (a) violence is used or threatened by any person against the complainant or any other person;
 - (b) the complainant is unlawfully detained by the defendant;
 - (c) the complainant is mistaken, as a result of deception by the defendant, as to the nature or purpose of the act; or
 - (d) the defendant induces the complainant to agree to the act by impersonating another person.
- (4) For the purpose of paragraph (3), the complainant is the person whose consent to an act is required, and the defendant is the person who is required to believe that the complainant consents to the act.
- (5) Paragraph (3) does not limit other reasons for which agreement might not be free.
- (6) A person does not consent to an act if, at the time of the act or of the alleged consent, the person –
 - (a) is asleep or unconscious;
 - (b) is incapable because of the effect of alcohol or any other substance (whether voluntarily consumed or otherwise) of consenting to the act; or
 - (c) otherwise lacks capacity, within the meaning of the Capacity and Self-Determination \(Jersey\) Law 2016, to consent to the act.
- (7) A person’s consent to an act is not to be taken as implied merely by –
 - (a) that person’s consent to another act;
 - (b) a purported expression or indication of that person’s consent to the act, if the expression or indication is given by another person; or
 - (c) another person’s consent to that act, given by that other person on his or her own behalf.
- (8) Consent to an act –

- (a) may be taken back at any time before the act; and
- (b) in the case of a continuing act, may be taken back at any time during the act, and accordingly, if the act takes place or continues after the consent has been taken back, it does so without consent.

3 Interpretation: defences and reasonable belief in consent, age or absence of exploitation

- (1) For the purpose of any provision of this Law under which a defendant is required to show a fact to establish a defence, the defendant is to be taken to have shown the fact if –
 - (a) sufficient evidence of the fact is adduced to raise an issue with respect to it; and
 - (b) the contrary is not proved beyond reasonable doubt.
- (2) Paragraph (3) applies if, in proceedings under this Law, a question arises as to whether the defendant reasonably believed that another person consented to an act.
- (3) The question is to be determined having regard to all the circumstances, including in particular –
 - (a) whether the defendant had taken any steps to ascertain whether the other person consented to the act; and
 - (b) if so, what those steps were.
- (4) Paragraph (5) applies if in proceedings under this Law a question arises, other than in a defence under Article 13(3), as to whether the defendant reasonably believed that another person was of or older than a particular age.
- (5) The question is to be determined having regard to all the circumstances, including in particular –
 - (a) whether the defendant had taken any steps to ascertain the age of the other person; and
 - (b) if so, what those steps were.
- (6) Paragraph (7) applies if, in proceedings under Article 22, a question arises as to whether the defendant reasonably believed that no person had engaged in any exploitative conduct in relation to the prostitution service.
- (7) The question is to be determined having regard to all the circumstances, including in particular –
 - (a) whether the defendant had taken any steps to ascertain whether any person had engaged in any exploitative conduct; and
 - (b) if so, what those steps were.

- (a) is an offence under a provision of an enactment or of customary law that is amended or repealed by this Law; or
- (b) is otherwise constituted in whole or in part by a sexual act.

46 Transitional and related provisions
