- (2) Subject to the provisions of Article 15(3) and of Article 16(2) of this Convention, for the purpose of calculating an earnings factor for entitlement to any benefit referred to in Articles 12 to 26 of this Convention and provided under the legislation specified in article 2(1)(a)(i) and (ii) of this Convention, a person shall be treated for each week beginning in a relevant tax year commencing on or after 6 April, 1975, the whole of which week is a contribution period completed as an employed person under the legislation of Cyprus, as having paid a contribution as an employed earner on earnings equivalent to two-thirds of that year's upper earnings limit.
- (3) For the purpose of determining entitlement, under the legislation of the United Kingdom, to an old age pension in accordance with Article 17 of this Convention, to widow's benefit in accordance with Article 19, or to any benefit specified in Articles 12 to 14 and Articles 24 to 26, contribution periods completed as a self-employed person or as a voluntary contributor or equivalent periods completed under the legislation of Cyprus after 5 April, 1975 shall be treated as if they had been contribution periods completed as a self-employed person or as a non-employed person or equivalent periods completed under the legislation of the United Kingdom.
- (4) For the purpose of determining entitlement to benefit in accordance with Articles 12 to 14 and Articles 17, 19, 25 and 26 of this Convention under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(iv) of this Convention, contribution periods completed as an employed person under the legislation of Cyprus after 5 April, 1975 shall be treated as if they had been contribution periods completed as an employed person under the legislation of Guernsey.

- (5) For the purpose of calculating the appropriate contribution factor to establish entitlement to any benefit referred to in Articles 12 to 26 of this Convention and provided under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(iii) of this Convention, a person shall be treated:
 - (a) for each week in a contribution period completed under the legislation of Cyprus, being a week in the relevant quarter, as having paid contributions which derive a quarterly contribution factor of 0.077 for that quarter;
 - (b) for each week in a contribution period completed under the legislation of Cyprus, being a week in the relevant year, as having paid contributions which derive an annual contribution factor of 0.0192 for that year;
 - (c) for each week, the whole of which is an equivalent period under the legislation of Cyprus, as if a contribution had been credited to him under the legislation of Jersey in the same manner as a contribution period is treated under the provisions of subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this paragraph.
- (6) For the purpose of converting insurance periods completed under the legislation of the United Kingdom before 6 April, 1975, each contribution period or equivalent period completed under the legislation of the United Kingdom shall be treated as if it had been a contribution period or an equivalent period completed under the legislation of Cyprus.
- (7) For the purpose of converting to an insurance period any earnings-factor achieved under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(i) and (ii) of this Convention during any period commencing on or after 6 April, 1975 and ending on or before 5 October, 1980, the competent authority of the United Kingdom shall divide the earnings-factor by the lower earnings limit applicable during that period. The result shall be expressed as a whole number, any remaining fraction being ignored. The figure so determined, subject to a maximum of the number of weeks during which the person was subject to that legislation in that period, shall be treated as representing the number of weeks in the insurance period completed under that legislation. Each such week shall be treated as if it had been a week for which a contribution had been paid or credited, as the case may be, under the legislation of Cyprus.
- (8) For the purpose of converting to an insurance period any earnings-factor achieved as an employed person in any tax year, or part of a tax year, commencing on or after 6 October, 1980 under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(i) and (ii) of this Convention, the competent authority of the United Kingdom shall divide the earnings-factor by that year's lower earnings limit. The result shall be expressed as a whole number, any remaining fraction being ignored. The figure so determined, subject to the number of weeks during which the person was subject to that legislation in that year, or part of that year as the case may be, shall be treated as representing the number of weeks in the insurance period completed under that legislation. Each such week shall be treated as if it had been a week for which insurable earnings equivalent to four times the weekly basic insurable earnings had been achieved under the legislation of Cyprus, provided that the total insurable earnings resulting from such weeks in any one contribution year under the legislation of Cyprus shall be limited to a maximum of fifty-two times the weekly basic insurable earnings applicable at the relevant time under the legislation of Cyprus.

- (9) For the purpose of converting to an insurance period any earnings-factor achieved as a self-employed or as a non-employed person in any tax year, or part of a tax year, commencing on or after 6 October, 1980 under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(i) and (ii) of this Convention, the competent authority of the United Kingdom shall divide the earnings-factor by that year's lower earnings limit. The result shall be expressed as a whole number, any remaining fraction being ignored. The figure so determined shall be treated as representing the number of weeks in the insurance period completed under that legislation. Each such week shall be treated as if it had been a week for which insurable earnings had been achieved equal to the weekly basic insurable earnings under the legislation of Cyprus.
- (10) For the purpose of converting to an insurance period any contribution factor achieved under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(iii) of this Convention, the competent authority of the United Kingdom shall:
- (a) in the case of a quarterly contribution factor, multiply the factor achieved by a person in a quarter by thirteen; and
 - (b) in the case of an annual contribution factor, multiply the factor achieved by a person in a year by fifty-two.

The result shall be expressed as a whole number, any remaining fraction being ignored. The figure so determined, subject to a maximum of the number of weeks during which the person was subject to that legislation in a quarter or in a year, as the case may be, shall be treated as representing the number of weeks in the insurance period completed under that legislation. Each such week shall be treated as a week for which a contribution had been paid or credited, as the case may be, under the legislation of Cyprus on insurable earnings equal to the weekly basic insurable earnings applicable at the relevant time.

- (11) For the purpose of converting insurance periods completed after 5 April, 1975 under the legislation specified in Article 2(1)(a)(iv) of this Convention, each weekly contribution period or equivalent period completed under the legislation of that Party shall be treated as if it had been a weekly contribution period or equivalent period completed under the legislation of Cyprus on insurable earnings equal to the weekly basic insurable earnings applicable at the relevant times.
- (12) Where it is not possible to determine accurately the periods of time in which certain insurance periods were completed under the legislation of one Party, such periods shall be treated as if they did not overlap with insurance periods completed under the legislation of the other Party, but they shall be taken into account to the best advantage of the beneficiary.
- (13) For the purposes of applying the provisions of paragraphs (2) to (5) of this Article for any period on or after 6 October, 1980, a week of insurance under the legislation of Cyprus shall be determined by dividing the insurable earnings for the relevant period by the weekly basic insurable earnings applicable in the relevant contribution year. Provided that the number of weeks so determined shall not exceed the number of weeks in the relevant period.

- (14) For the purposes of calculating a supplementary benefit under the legislation of Cyprus, no account shall be taken of any insurance period completed under the legislation of the United Kingdom.

- (1) Where a person has completed a contribution period under the legislation of one Party since his last arrival in the territory of that Party, or, as the case may be, in the Sovereign Base Areas, then for the purpose of any claim for sickness benefit or maternity allowance made under the legislation of that Party, any insurance period completed under the legislation of the other Party shall, subject to the provisions of Article 11 of this Convention, be treated as if it were an insurance period completed under the legislation of the former Party.⁹
- (2) Where a person is employed in the territory of one Party and the legislation of the other Party applies to him in accordance with any of the provisions of Articles 5 to 10 of this Convention, he shall be treated under that legislation for the purpose of any claim to sickness benefit or maternity allowance as if he were in the territory of the latter party.

- (a) his condition necessitates immediate treatment during a stay in the territory of the latter Party or in the Sovereign Base Areas and, within six days of commencement of incapacity for work or such longer period as the competent authority or insurance authority may allow, he submits to the competent authority or insurance authority of the former Party a claim for benefit and documentary evidence of incapacity for work issued by the doctor treating him; or
- (b) having claimed and become entitled to sickness benefit or maternity allowance under the legislation of the former Party, he is authorised by the competent institution to return to the territory of the Party where he resides or to transfer his residence to the territory of the other Party or, to return to the Sovereign Base Areas where he resides, or to transfer his residence to the Sovereign Base Areas; or

- (4A) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (5) and (6) of this Article, where a person would, if he were in Great Britain or Northern Ireland, be entitled to statutory sick pay or statutory maternity pay under the legislation of Great Britain or Northern Ireland, he shall, provided that he satisfies all the conditions for entitlement to and payment of sickness benefit or maternity allowance under the legislation of Great Britain or Northern Ireland, with the exception of any conditions as to residence and presence in Great Britain or Northern Ireland, be entitled to that benefit or allowance while he is in the territory of Cyprus or in the Sovereign Base Areas, if:

- (b) having become entitled to statutory sick pay or statutory maternity pay under the legislation of Great Britain or Northern Ireland, he is authorised by the competent authority of Great Britain or Northern Ireland to return to the territory of Cyprus, where he resides, or to transfer his residence to the territory of Cyprus, or to return to the Sovereign Base Areas where he resides, or to transfer his residence to the Sovereign Base Areas; or
- (c) he is authorised by the competent authority of Great Britain or Northern Ireland to go to the territory of Cyprus or to the Sovereign Base Areas, to receive there the treatment appropriate to his condition.

The authorisation required in accordance with sub-paragraph (b) of this paragraph may be refused only if it is established that movement of the person concerned would be prejudicial to his state of health, or to the receipt of medical treatment.¹¹

- (5) Where a person would be entitled to receive sickness benefit under the legislation of both Parties for the same period of incapacity whether by virtue of the provisions of this Convention or otherwise, he shall be entitled to receive sickness benefit only under the legislation of the Party in whose territory the incapacity began or, where the incapacity began in the Sovereign Base Areas, under the legislation which applied to him at the time the incapacity began.¹²

- (6) Where a woman would be entitled to receive maternity allowance under the legislation of both Parties for the same confinement and for the same period whether by virtue of the provisions of this Convention or otherwise, she shall be entitled to receive the allowance only under the legislation of the Party in whose territory she was at the beginning of the period for which the maternity allowance is payable and where she was in the Sovereign Base Areas at the beginning of that period she shall be treated as if she was in the territory of the Party whose legislation applied to her at that time.¹³
